Occupation or position held	Senior researcher
Main activities and responsibilities	My activity was mainly focused on biological control of lepidopteran pests in different agroecosystems. For this purpose we mass-produce oophagous parasitoid wasps (Trichogramma sp.). At the moment we have about 100 pure strains of trichogramms. In the last years we have extended our research to organic production , especially in apple orchards. Another field of our activity is the study of natural parasitoid communities of different crops pests. 1997 onwards, I have a very successful collaboration with several scientists from CABI Délémont, Switzerland and University of Montana, Missoula, USA, for various research projects about invasive weeds in North America, especially in fields of biological control and mechanism of invasion.
